

CROATIA - A Country Portrait

With a coastline that stretches thousands of kilometers, more than 1,000 offshore islands and a mild Mediterranean climate, Croatia's appeal is obvious. Throw in chocolate box pretty Venetian old towns, with their terracotta roof tiles, rugged mountain ranges and melt in the mouth Adriatic seafood, and the cocktail becomes even more intoxicating. Although the coast is undoubtedly the shining star of Croatia tourism, off the beaten track the country also boasts undulating hills in inland Istria, where ornate hilltop towns, great food, tasty domestic wine and a proliferation of black and white truffles has earned it favorable comparisons with Tuscany.

Advent in the Heart of Zagreb

Advent in the heart of Zagreb is a traditional pre-holiday event held in the central city square, bringing guests and citizens of Zagreb the atmosphere of advent and Christmas with a rich musical and arts program. Interested citizens, guests of our town and accidental passersby can enjoy the programs of numerous cultural-artistic societies, children's choirs, drama ensembles, dance groups, magicians and vocal and instrumental groups, all under the watchful eye of Father Christmas, much to the delight of the youngest. Beside the vast Program on Main Square, there are many other locations to discover during this season:

Advent on Zrinjevac

Through the alley of plane trees, you will reach the old music pavilion, which will welcome you in its Christmas, fairy-tale look and leave you breathless. Musical treats - Christmas classics, waltzes, and carefully selected music program for ladies and gentlemen are the reasons you will surely visit Zrinjevac again. Unique and interesting souvenirs and Christmas ornaments will be sold by selected artists, and while standing you will be able to enjoy the almost forgotten Zagreb specialties: cabbage cloths, fried apples or baked štrukle, and warm up with hot chocolate or mulled wine. All this and more you will see, hear and taste at the Advent on Zrinjevac.

Winter at Kvatrić

Various cultural events throughout November, December and January that will ensue throughout the upcoming three months are intended for citizens and guests of Zagreb alike. Daily programs will take place within a heated tent, starting at noon, and they will be tied to St. Martin's Day, St. Nicholas' Day, the Advent, and the New Year. Numerous cultural and artistic associations from Zagreb and its vicinity, as well as other regions and counties of Croatia, will present themselves during the event; there will also be tradesmen offering various indigenous products and souvenirs. Furthermore, there will also be various entertainment and educational programs.
